Look on the ice

Notice all the Northland Sticks

Look down on the rink right now. All the American NHL teams and the top European national teams use Northland sticks.

The pros say they can tell a Northland stick blindfolded because of its superb balance. Every Northland stick is carefully hand-crafted from northern white ash and rock elm. The result is a tough, durable stick with the right amount of flex to shoot straight and true.

The same Northlands used by the pros are available wherever sporting goods for serious skaters are sold.

World's largest maker of hockey sticks.

FRANK D. SELKE, General Manager

It's a whole new ball game for Frank Selke.

Oakland Seal president Frank Selke is now Oakland Seal general manager Frank Selke. He couldn't be happier. For once he's out from behind the big mahogany desk of the club's top administrative office and on the firing line, trying his best to rebuild the tattered National Hockey League tailenders into a prideful, purposeful, successful organization.

Already he has shown the type of gambling in the NHL flesh markets which builds championship clubs, and which earned his father a slot in the Hockey Hall of Fame.

He swapped popular Seal defensive star Bob Baun to the Detroit Red Wings along with toughie Ron Harris for the speed and scoring potential of forwards Doug Roberts and Gary Jarrett, with defenseman Howie Young and amateur goalie Chris Worthy thrown in for good measure.

Then he traded Wally Boyer and Alain Caron to Montreal in return for four players, two amateurs and two good young pros, Norm Ferguson, a right wing, and Stan Fuller, a defenseman, both from the Cleveland Barons.

He made another deal with Montreal to buy "Superpest" Bryan Watson and then he plucked off top-rated Canadien defensive prospect Carol Vadnais in the opening round of the NHL equalization draft. He followed those up with another deal with the Canadiens for left wing Len Ronson, a 45-goal scorer last year with San Diego.

In other words, Selke has been wasting little time trying to patch the club's weaknesses and instill the fire and enthusiasm necessary to improve a first-year record which included a poverty-stricken 15 victories in 74 games.

Now that's what he's done in just two months. Wait a while, he's got some other ideas, too.

"My job this year is quite different and certainly more challenging. Last season my role was one of a supervisory nature," explains the solidly-built Toronto native.

"I made recommendations to the Board of Directors on certain policies and then acted on their decisions. It covered the complete operation of the franchise — except hockey. Now my job is concerned only with the team and my responsibility is to provide Oakland with the best possible team we can field.

"This year I have the strongest possible backing of our new owners—John O'Neil, Potter Palmer, and George Gillett—and a great man to work with in our coach, Fred Glover. I couldn't ask for any more help or cooperation than I'm getting right now. It's great. And I feel that with any kind of a break . . . if a couple of our guys can come through . . . then we are going to have a real contender."

But Selke, who came to the Seals from the ranks of the highly successful Montreal Canadiens, is also looking to the future.

"We must try to build beyond one year. We need a solid front office, farm clubs, and scouting system, and all the other adjuncts necessary for success at the NHL level," he declares.

Selke, 40, played goalie in the outstanding Toronto Hockey League, but went into front office work rather than a pro career. He was vice president for sales and promotion at the Montreal Forum before coming to Oakland.

He and his wife—whom he affectionately calls "Red"—have three children: Gary, 13, Greg, 11, and Lisa, 7.

FRED GLOVER, Coach

Fred Glover isn't exactly what you'd call an extrovert, but he has a certain warmth of personality, made so by depth, understanding, compassion, and the not-so-outdated philosophy that you get out of life what you put into it.

Serious, but possessed of both good humor and wit, Glover is undertaking his first coaching job in the National League. The Seals couldn't be happier.

As a playing coach with the Cleveland Barons, his career is unequalled in the American Hockey League. In 15 years he has become the circuit's all time leader in goals scored, assists, total points, and penalties. His play was both effective AND tough. He won the AHL's MVP award three times and the scoring title twice. He was an AHL all-star seven times.

Born in Toronto, Jan. 5, 1928, Glover got his start in pro hockey in 1947. He eventually saw regular season action with both the Wings and the Chicago Black Hawks. He joined the Barons in 1953.

An aggressive coach, Glover likes his team to challenge the opposition in its own end of the rink. He likes his players to move constantly. He likes a position, passing attack with plenty of thinking by his players.

"When you can force a team to make mistakes in its own end, then the game becomes easier for you. If you can control one end, the other will take care of itself," Glover believes.

NATIONAL HOCKEY LEAGUE AWARD WINNERS

Stan Mikita
CHICAGO BLACK HAWKS

Stan Mikita is as versatile in the trophy department as he is in playmaking for his Chicago Black Hawks. For the second straight year, Mikita pocked all the hardware available to a forward—the second time in NHL history that a player has won the "Triple Crown"—The Art Ross trophy for his 87 points (40 goals and 47 assists), the Hart Trophy as the most valuable player, and the Lady Byng for a paltry 14 penalty minutes vis a vis his great performance. Mikita won the same three honors last year.

Robert Orr
BOSTON BRUINS

Bobby Orr came into the National Hockey League with the credentials of a superstar—he didn't disappoint anybody. Last year, despite knee troubles, he easily walked off with the James D. Norris Trophy as the NHL's top defenseman. The Boston Bruins star scored 11 goals and assisted on 20 others in only 46 games. In addition to the Norris Trophy, the 20-year-old Orr was picked as a member of the NHL's first all-star team. He won the Calder Trophy the previous year as the top rookie in the NHL.

Derek Sanderson
BOSTON BRUINS

Derek Sanderson, 22-year-old Bruin forward, who made a spectacular jump from the Junior A leagues of Ontario to the NHL is the winner of the Calder trophy as the NHL's top rookie for last season. Sanderson, a 6-0, 173-pound wing, blasted 24 goals past enemy goalies and helped on 25 others. Although Montreal flash Jacques Lemaire closed fast in the last season, Sanderson maintained top performance all year to win the honor.

Understanding Hockey

Simplified Hockey Rules

OFFSIDE

Puck must precede all offensive players into attacking zone. Player offside only when he has BOTH skates over offensive blue line prior to puck. Face off in neutral zone outside of defensive team's blue line.

Shared by @HockeyMagazine

OFFSIDE PASS

Pass may not cross two (2) lines untouched. Pass from inside own blue line across red line is offside.

ICING

Puck must pass over red line and offensive blue line across goal and be touched by defense. No icing if puck touched by goalie or determined as shot for net (referee judgment). Play whistled dead and face off in offending team's zone.

ICING LEGAL WHEN:

1. One team shorthanded 2. Official judgment that A. puck was shot for goal B. opposing team could have played puck before it entered goal zone.
3. Offensive player touches puck before defense (providing no offside infraction)

SCORING

To score, the entire puck must cross the goal line. The red light flashes behind the goal when the puck has crossed the line. The goal does not count if:

1—An attacking player kicks, throws or deliberately steers the puck directly into the net with anything other than his stick. He can, however, kick the puck off another player, other than the goalie, deflecting it in the net.

2—Another member of the attacking team is in the goal crease and is not held there by one of the defending team.

The last man on the scoring team to touch the puck before it goes into the net gets credit for the goal. No more than two assists may be given on any goal, and are awarded to the two men who touch the puck previous to the goal scorer.

If the scoring team never touches the puck, the goal is awarded to the player nearest the net. The goal is unassisted.

NUMBER OF PLAYERS

Team dresses 16 players plus two goaltenders. Each team must have four men on ice, including goalie, at all times. Penalties incurred beyond this number are "delayed" and served on termination of first existing penalty.

UNIFORMS

Forwards carry about 20 pounds of padding. Defensemen carry about 25 pounds and goalies between 30 and 35 pounds. "C" on jersey indicates captain. "A" is assistant captain. They are the only players allowed to question referee.

PUCK

Made of vulcanized rubber. One inch thick, three inches in diameter. Weight—six ounces.

GOAL

4 ft. high, 6 ft. wide and 22 inches deep. Goal crease 4 ft. deep and 8 ft. across from goal line.

HOCKEY VOCABULARY

Body Check Slowing or stopping an opponent with the puck by using hip or shoulder. (Legal)

Slap Shot Bringing the stick back, then quickly forward and slapping the puck ahead.

Stick Handling Carrying the puck along the ice with the stick.

Sweep Check To use the entire length of the stick with a sweeping motion while laying it flat on the ice in order to dislodge the puck from the puck carrier. (Legal)

Poke Check To dislodge the puck from the puck carrier by stabbing at it with the blade of the stick. (Legal)

Deke To fake out an opponent.

Throwing Snow Player who stops skating suddenly if approaching opponent or boards and is timid about body contact, the sudden stop "throws snow" from skates.

Flip Pass To pass puck to a teammate by flipping it a few inches off ice, over an opponent's stick which might be in the way.

Fore Checking Legal. To check opponents in their own zone and break up their plays before they have a chance to organize them.

Is there really a difference in Bauer hockey skates?

Bobby Orr says 'yes'.

Is there a difference? Bobby Orr and NHL Stars from every team in the League are proving it every game.

The difference? We build our skates from the blades up. Tough, drop-forged steel blades so they'll take and hold a sharper edge. Every safety feature too. Like crush-proof toes. 'Quick change' heel tips. Special cut-proof nylon mesh and the best leathers throughout the boot.

So, before you spend all that money, see the Bauer Skate line (especially our Black Panther model) at better sporting goods stores.

See? There is a big difference in Bauer Skates.

NATIONAL HOCKEY LEAGUE
★ THE STARS ★

BOBBY HULL

When Maurice "Rocket" Richard scored 50 goals in the 1944-45 season, in hockey, it was like breaking the "impossible" four minute mile. Nobody broke that new barrier until a boy billed as the "Golden Jet" took the record apart over 20 years later. In 1965-66 Bobby Hull, the darling of Chicago Black Hawk fans, set a new mark of 54 goals in one season, after tying Richard's record four seasons earlier.

The muscular, lightning fast left-winger is the commanding star in the game at age 28. In addition to his goal scoring feats, he shares the record for point-scoring with teammate Stan Mikita, winning the Art Ross Trophy in 1965-66 with 97 points. He has won the Lady Byng Trophy and the Hart Trophy as well. Seventeen times he has scored the hat-trick over his ten seasons in the NHL, and on four occasions he has scored four goals in one game. Most everyone agrees he's the most exciting player in hockey.

The National Hockey League is 51 years old. For nearly half that time, it has been dominated by one player—Gordie Howe.

GORDIE HOWE

The 39-year-old Detroit right-winger has won the Hart Trophy as the League's Most Valued Player six times, the Art Ross Trophy for scoring honors six times, made the All-Star team in all but four of his 21 seasons, scored over 30 goals eleven times, and over 40, four times, played on nine League champion teams, three Stanley Cup champions, and sparked the Red Wings into the playoffs in 19 of his 21 years with the team. His career total of 649 goals is the all-time record. In 1966, Howe received the Lester Patrick Memorial Trophy for his contribution to hockey in the United States. The complete hockey player, Howe is a great scorer, a fine playmaker and a strong checker. He's tough on the ice, a complete gentleman off the ice. Howe is what hockey is all about.

LORNE WORSLEY

Lorne (Gump) Worsley clearly demonstrated to the National Hockey League that he's still the best goalkeeper for the best team in the game.

His amazing 1.98 goals against average in 40 games for the Canadiens last year helped the Habs breeze to the East Division championship, the Stanley Cup title, and the Vezina Trophy as the league's best goaltender for himself.

He shared the award with his young stablemate, Rog Vachon. Between the two they easily ran away with the Vezina award with a 2.26 average. He's back, starting his 19th season in pro hockey. He's getting better with age, too. He's 39.

"The Gumper" turned pro way back in 1950 with St. Paul of the old United States Hockey League. Since then, his career has been dotted with a variety of hockey honors. His first year in the NHL was in 1952 and he was named the league's Rookie of the Year.

TRAINER

About the busiest guy in town when the National Hockey League season opens, is Seal trainer Barry Keast.

Keast is responsible for every piece of equipment owned by the team from shoelaces to shoulder pads, as well as the treatment of the many illnesses and injuries which afflict a hockey team during the course of a lengthy season.

A player himself for many years, Keast admits "When I saw I didn't have enough talent to make it as a pro, I became a trainer." He got his start for the Niagara Falls Flyers of the Ontario Jr. A OHA circuit and the next year moved to Cleveland.

This 27-year-old native of Barrie, Ont. spent three seasons with coach Fred Glove and the Barons.

WHAT A DIFFERENCE A YEAR MAKES

By Hugh McDonald
San Mateo Times

Shared by @HockeyMagazines

In March of last year, about all Bay Area hockey fans had to look forward to was the start of the baseball season.

The Seals in their first year of NHL competition had been a big disappointment. They had a firm grip on last place and during the month of March they failed to win a single game.

In March, 1969, the Seals haven't exactly been a ball of fire, but they have improved on last year in that they have won two games as of this writing, with six to go. More important, they're in second, not last, place and they'll have to drop completely dead to be aced out of the playoffs.

Despite their recent troubles, the 1968-69 Seals are a vastly improved squad over last year. They have more ability. They have a better coach. They have more spirit and they play much more crowd-pleasing hockey than last season's defense-minded squad.

Previously the most exciting Seals team was the 1962-63 band of bruisers which won the team's first Lester Patrick Trophy.

The present Seals are even more stimulating. They are, of course, playing a major league brand of hockey as contrasted with minor league hockey, which was often exciting but rarely excellent.

This year's Seals are a skating club. They forecheck and, as one writer put it, when they are at their best another team is faced with "15 Freddie Glovers all in one night." Coach Glover in his playing days was noted as an aggressive play-to-win type, and evidently some of his approach to the game is being absorbed by his players.

Glover acknowledges that the Seals have been in the kind of slump that comes to all teams during the season. He hopes that the way they played in their winning efforts in Chicago last week and in their 7-2 shellacking of Pittsburgh Sunday, is a sign the slump is over.

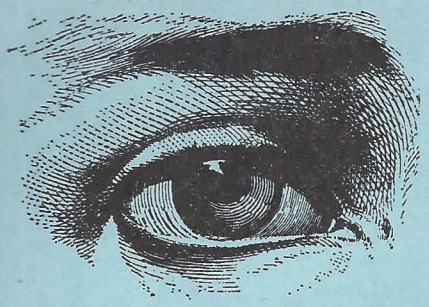
The Seals have the best record of any Western Division club against the East. They have won two and lost three against Detroit this year and would like to even it up in this final regular season meeting of the two clubs.

It won't be easy. Detroit is in a dogfight for a playoff spot in the East.

As for the Seals, they're anxious to savor the flavor of National Hockey League playoffs. That's where the gold is. And they need only a victory tonight to clinch a playoff position.

EVERYBODY SEES YOU!



So why not look your best in an

RED WINGS ON YOUTH KICK

It took a year for the real impact of the rookie to take effect in the National Hockey League. Year No. 1 of expansion was a gamble by the new clubs that they could parlay success out of the skills of three or four experienced veterans. The experiment was only limited. Nearly all the rosters in both divisions of the NHL have undergone drastic changes, with the exception perhaps of Montreal, and even lately that has some unfamiliar faces.

The point is that this year, the second 12 months of expansion, has proven the key one for the young players.

The three top candidates for the Calder Trophy, the NHL's rookie award are in the West Division, Danny Grant, a 31-goal scorer for Minnesota, Norm Ferguson, a 29-goal scorer for Oakland, and Gerry Desjardins, a fine goaltender for Los Angeles.

But of all the teams with young players, the Detroit Red Wings have the most in key spots—and like the rest of the league, the Wings feel the freshman class is ready for graduation.

The rookie Red Wings are defenseman Poul Popiel, center Renald LeClerc, and left wings Nick Libett and Hank Montieth.

Each of these young pros has made an outstanding contribution toward Coach Bill Gadsby's bid to bring the Wings home in a playoff spot.

Monteith, a 23-year-old product of the University of Toronto, stepped to the head of the class last Saturday when he scored a clutch goal in the Wings' 7-4 win over Boston. It was his first score since being called up from Ft. Worth on Jan. 8.

Libett shares left wing duties with Monteith with linemates Pete Stemkowski at center and Bruce (the Red Rocket) MacGregor on right wing. Libett is a steady digger and a first rate position player, according to Gadsby.

"He'll never score a lot of goals," says the Wings coach, "but he stays on his wing where he belongs and covers his man."

A 23-year-old graduate of the Wings' Hamilton, Ont. junior club, Libett is in his third season as a pro. He has 10 goals and 13 assists and has seen action in nearly all the Detroit games so far this season.

Popiel, acquired in a trade with Los Angeles after the start of the season, is the biggest surprise for the Wings.

He has earned a starting job and is paired with ex-Seal captain Bobby Baun on defense. Those two and the remaining Detroit defensive corps have firmed up considerably and have lowered the team goals-against average to 2.75, lowest since the championship year of 1964-65.

Popiel has a pair of goals and 13 assists and some 68 penalty minutes.

LeClerc is something of a sparkplug for the Detroiters. Called Frenchy or Pepsi (his favorite drink) by his pals, he is inserted into special situations by Gadsby to perk up the squad or relieve a puffing regular.

Although used sparingly, the 21-year-old first-year pro has accumulated 60 penalty minutes, including a couple of fighting majors and two misconducts. He has two goals and three assists in 40 games. He was called up from Ft. Worth on Dec. 9.

The four Red Wing rookies are potential NHL stars, but Detroit is only one team. Perhaps on the horizon, there is another Bobby Hull lurking somewhere. Keep your eyes on the rookies.

SHOTS AROUND THE LEAGUE

The Toronto Maple Leafs have made the most dramatic move in the NHL during the past couple of weeks, taking over fourth place in the East Division on the strength of three wins in a row over L.A., Oakland and Boston . . . the Bruins and the Detroit Red Wings have been slumping of late and Detroit's reliance on the Howe-Mahovlich-Delvecchio line may be taking its toll . . . ex-Seal Bryan Watson will undergo surgery for torn knee ligaments suffered in a game against Los Angeles last week which Pittsburgh lost 3-1. . . . Paul Andrea gave a lift to the Penguins brief late season surge and rates a good look next season by the Penguins. Andrea scored 11 points in his first 16 games with Pittsburgh after failing to stick at training camp. . . . New York Rangers forward Donnie Marshall played his 1,000th NHL game last Sunday night. 37-year-old Donnie has scored 20 goals or more in four of five seasons with New York and reached the 500 mark in career points Sunday. . . .

Kings coach Red Kelly predicted Los Angeles would sweep their last three games against Oakland, including Tuesday night's in L.A. . . . Art Jones continues to lead Western League scorers. The Portland star has 98 points on 32 goals and 66 assists for 63 games. . . . Seals goalie Charlie Hodge is carrying a 2.57 goals-against average for his first seven games with Vancouver of the WHL . . . goalie Cesare Maniago and defenseman Elmer Vasko are recent injury problems for the Minnesota North Stars struggling to catch fourth place in the West. . . . Boston's Bobby Orr is closing in the goals record for defensemen (20). He has 18. Seals Carol Vadnais has 14. . . . Minnesota's Danny Grant broke the record for goals by a rookie. He has 31. Seals Norm Ferguson, top candidate for Rookie of the Year, can also break the old mark. Fergie had 29 entering the weekend action . . . names to watch in the Central League, the NHL's development league: Boston's Jim Lorentz, Tom Webster and Steve Atkinson, New York's Juha Widing, Bill Fairbairn and Don Luce, Montreal's Ernie Hicke and Christian Bordeleau, Chicago's Jim Wiste. . . .

Detroit's Pete Stemkowski passed the 20 goal mark for the first time in his NHL career and has been big for the Wings. . . . Seals coach Fred Glover was honored by his old team, the Cleveland Barons, last weekend. His number 9 was retired and he became the first member of Cleveland's Hockey Hall of Fame. . . . Boston's Eddie Westfall is out of action with torn rib cartilage. He continues the Bruins long list of injuries this season . . . according to two of the best in the business, Alex Delvecchio and Phil Esposito, the top face-off men in the NHL are Stan Mikita, Dave Keon, Norm Ullman, Jean Beliveau and Delvecchio and Esposito. They could put Seals Ted Hampson well up in that lineup. Watch how often he gets control of the puck from a faceoff—and from many of those named above. . . . Rangers' Emile Francis won't compare his fine young defenseman Brad Park with Bobby Orr. "Park is Park, Orr is Orr," says Francis cleverly. . . . Chicago coach Billy Reay has used Howie Young on defense, left wing and at center late this season. Doug Mohns has been permanently switched from forward to defense. . . .

Pro Sports Weekly featured a good piece on Oakland's Norm Ferguson last week. Ferguson, Ted Hampson and Coach Fred Glover all have excellent chances for NHL awards this season. Ferguson as Rookie of the Year, Hampson as winner of the Lady Byng and Glover as Coach of the Year. All-Star balloting should have Seals Bill Hicke, Gary Jarrett, Carol Vadnais, Bert Marshall, Ferguson and Hampson high among the vote-getters.

BOB DILLABOUGH

Shared by @HockeyMagazines

Bob Dillabough was in the middle of his best ever season in the National Hockey League when all of a sudden he went cartwheeling into the boards behind the Philadelphia net in the Flyers' Spectrum Arena.

Out cold from the impact of his collision with the boards, Bob was on his back while players from both sides clustered around to assay the extent of the damage. Hauled off on a stretcher, Dilly was given some 15 stitches in three separate wounds in the top of his head and later fitted with a neck brace to ease some pain which had extended down into his shoulders and arms.

That incident occurred on March 9 and it was an unpleasant interruption to a very fine year for the ex-Pittsburgh Penguin.

Dilly, a 28-year-old native of Belleville, Ont., came to the Seals earlier this year in a one-for-one trade which sent center Billy Harris to Pittsburgh.

Although he hadn't had much of an opportunity to play in Pittsburgh, he brought his game around in a hurry and developed as a valuable asset in the Seal battle plan.

Dilly's one big asset is speed and more than once this season it has helped him pull off a fairly spectacular play. In addition to taking a regular turn at left wing while working with center Joe Szura and rookie right wing Norm Ferguson, he also was the Seals' No. 1 penalty killer.

He had been working with Bryan Watson, but when Watson was traded, Earl Ingarfield took over, and those two were teamed with Gerry Odrowski.

Dilly has but six goals and nine assists, yet three of those goals were game-winners. Not a bad percentage.

Bob broke into pro hockey with the Detroit organization back in the 1961-62 season. He was switched around the Wings farm system, however, playing at Edmonton, Pittsburgh, Hershey, before being traded in 1965 to Boston. He played the next two seasons for the Bruins and in that time scored 13 goals and a total of 38 points. The next season, he was obtained by the new Pittsburgh NHL franchise in the expansion draft.

Interestingly, by Bob's own assessment, this has been his best season ever in the NHL. "I've had better scoring years, but I don't think I've had a year where I've made such a good team contribution. I'm skating harder and moving the puck better than I ever have. But I think the good balance of ability on this team has helped me to be a better player."

SEALS AWARDS

The Booster Club Trophy

The Booster Club Trophy goes annually to the player adjudged most improved from the beginning of the season to the end of the regular campaign. The winner is selected by a panel appointed by the Booster Club executive and receives a trophy as a memento of the honor.

1967-68.....Tracy Pratt, Defense

1967-67 (WHL) Jack McCartan, Goal

Most Valuable Player Trophy

This handsome trophy is awarded annually to the player considered most valuable to the Seals throughout the season. The player receives a cash award of $500.00 and a replica of the beautiful, three foot tall, perpetual trophy. The winner is selected by a panel of hockey writers covering the Seals for the major daily papers in the Bay Area, voting on a game-by-game basis. Each month, the Seals player leading the points parade in the voting will be announced at the Arena and featured in the program.

1967-68.....Charlie Hodge, Goal

1966-67 (WHL) Jack Evans, Defense

The Oakland Tribune Scoring Award

The Oakland Tribune Award was inaugurated last year and is awarded annually to the Seals leading scorer at the end of the regular season play. It carries with it a cash award of $500.00, and the player also receives a replica of the gold chalice which perpetuates the Tribune Award.

PHIL ESPOSITO

Phil Esposito

Phil Esposito was a journey man NHLer with the Chicago Black Hawks, serving up his best center plays for one Robert Marvin Hull, the greatest name in the game. But then Esposito was traded to the Bruins and he went from journeyman to superstar almost overnight. He scored 35 goals and asssited on 49 others and he won runner-up honors in the league scoring race, just three points behind Stan Mikita, his former Black Hawk teammate. The Bruins will be counting heavily on him to repeat his 1967-68 success this year as Boston shoots for the top.

Alex Delvecchio

He's sometimes called "The Gray Fox," and it's an apt description of the 37-year-old Detroit Red Wing pivot. His graying hair belies the grace and style which typifies his flowing action. Last year, although playing for a club which finished last, Delvecchio finished with 22 goals and 48 assists and ranked eighth in the NHL scoring race. The rebuilding Red Wings hope "The Gray Fox" will impart some of his experience to his younger mates as the Wings attempt to shake the East Division cellar.

WAYNE CONNELLY

Wayne Connelly

Wayne Connelly once wore the uniform of the old San Francisco Seals and everyone who knew him, felt he had the potential to gain NHL stardom. After a so-so-season with the Boston Bruins two years ago, he was drafted by the Minnesota North Stars and his star rose quickly. His 35 goals were tops on the new West Division. He was an all-star pick among the new clubs and North Star coach Wren Blair believes Wayne is the next Bobby Hull. Connelly's lightning slap shot is an awesome sight. The motion is a quick up and down and the shot is heavy. Blair feels Wayne is the coming superstar of the infant Western loop.

PENALTIES

1. Minor—Two minutes in the penalty box, no substitute allowed.
2. Major—Five minutes in the penalty box, no substitute allowed.
3. Misconduct—Ten minutes in the penalty box, immediate substitution allowed. This is a penalty against the player and not his team.
4. Game Misconduct—Suspension for balance of game, immediate substitution allowed.
5. Match—Suspension for balance of game, substitution allowed after five minutes when penalty is for kicking or trying to injure an opponent and after ten minutes for deliberately injuring an opponent.
6. Penalty Shot—A penalty shot is awarded when a player other than the goaltender picks up the puck wth his hand when it is in the goal crease, or for a defending player, in a defending zone, throwing his stick at the puck, or when an attacking player has no other opponent in front other than the goaltender and is fouled from behind, preventing a reasonable scoring opportunity.

Board Checking: Major or minor. Thrusting an opponent violently (referee's judgment) into boards.

Broken sticks: Minor. Failure to drop broken stick immediately results in penalty. Player may play without stick.

Charging: Major or minor. A deliberate move of over two steps to run or jump into an opponent.

Cross-checking: Minor, major if injury. Handle of stick used as blocking weapon. Hands on stick and stick off ice.

Elbowing; Kneeing: Minor, major if injury. Knee or elbow used to impede opponent.

Hooking: Minor. Snagging opponent wtih stick to impede movement.

Slashing: Minor, major if injury. Swinging stick to impede opponent.

Tripping: Minor. Deliberate use of any part of body or equipment to cause opponent to fall.

Delayed (Slow) Whistle—Delays penalty call to continue game flow. On a possible penalty fouled team scores, no call. If opposition steals puck penalty call made.

National Hockey League History

Last season saw the NHL embark upon its second half century with exactly twice the number of teams it had at the end of its first fifty years. Major league hockey, which only yesterday extended no farther than the Mississippi River, now stretches from Boston to Los Angeles.

The NHL was born in Montreal on November 22, 1917. Representatives from two Montreal teams, one club from Quebec and one from Ottawa laid the cornerstone. When play actually started on December 19 the Quebec franchise was in limbo, but the Toronto Arenas joined to even off the schedule. The first president and secretary-treasurer of the league was Frank Calder, later to be honored by the "Rookie of the Year" award, the Calder Trophy.

The Twenties were years of bathtub gin, hot jazz and the maturing of the NHL. By 1925 three American teams had become part of the league. New York and Boston became mainstays while the Pittsburgh club transferred five years later to Philadelphia. Philadelphia hung on for one season then it too left. It was to be 27 years before Pennsylvania would put its largest cities back into major league hockey.

Inclusion of three more American entries in 1926 brought the league to ten teams which were divided into two divisions, Canadian and American. The Chicago Black Hawks, New York Rangers and Detroit Cougers made their debuts. The league now had two New York franchises with the original, the Americans, in the Canadian division. 1926 was also the year that hockey's most coveted prize, the Stanley Cup, became a permanent possession of the league.

With Philadelphia's departure in the early Thirties the NHL was down to nine clubs. Then Ottawa sent its franchise packing to St. Louis in 1934. The Eagles, forerunners of the present Blues, lasted one year. By the late Thirties it was an eight team loop.

Shortly before World War II the league melted to six teams. The Montreal Maroons, who had hung on for 14 years, called it quits. The Brooklyn Americans, formerly New York, followed on their heels. The six team league stood (unchanged) for 25 years.

When the war ended the players came home to find that they had gained a 60 game schedule. In the post-war period they also achieved the first player bonuses and playoff guarantees. Then, in 1947, another milestone: the first All-Star game. The puck had just started sliding toward the players' end of the rink. 1948 brought the NHL Pension Society and the annual presentation of the Art Ross Trophy to the league scoring champion.

The turn into the Fifties marked the introduction of the 70 game schedule. It also bode well for the defensive half of the game. In 1953, with the Art Ross Trophy already five years old, the James Norris (Memorial) Trophy was established to honor the league's premier defenseman. One year later the intra-league draft was modified to provide a more effective means of assuring the availability of quality players.

The temper of the Fifties was increasing prosperity, and the NHL's players were in full swing with the times. In 1957, with the first ten years of their pension plan completed, the players pushed for a revision. The revised plan assured the participants of tremendously increased benefits. The players' playoff awards were also substantially increased. And the players finally achieved representation in their own behalf as an Owner-Player council became a reality.

With the coming of the "New Frontier," the league once again followed suit and decided that it was high time to honor its heroes. The top NHL executives completed arrangements with the Canadian National Exhibition and the city of Toronto for construction of a Hockey Hall of Fame in Exhibition Park on the shores of Lake Ontario. The Hall officially opened in August of 1961.

And then. Two million dollars was the price tag; expansion was the design. Years of hesitation and trepidation culminated in reality. June 6th and 7th were the dates set. Six new teams would draft 120 new faces. When all the preliminaries were completed, the decision: two divisions playing a 74 game schedule. This season two more games have been added with the new teams meeting the old teams six times, and each other eight times. Expansion has succeeded, and parity is just around the corner.

The New "In" Game For ... The Entire Family

HE SHOOTS HE SCORES! For more than 40 years this electrifying saying of Foster Hewitt has exhilarated hockey fans wherever the world's fastest and most exciting sport is played.

Now the excitement of hockey can be played right in your own living room with you as the key performer of your favorite National Hockey League team.

The demand for these two N.H.L. approved hockey games—"LAST MINUTE OF PLAY" and STANLEY CUP HOCKEY—has been simply great.

Why? Either game can be played—and enjoyed—by the entire family. Age is no barrier and nearly as many females as males are now playing these N.H.L. games.

Whether you select "LAST MINUTE OF PLAY," which enables you to pull your goalie at any time to get an extra attacker, or whether you choose STANLEY CUP HOCKEY, there's enough action to satisfy the most demanding hockey fan. As many as eight people can play at one time.

It's considered the next best thing to actually participating in a N.H.L. game—as a player or as a spectator. It makes an ideal gift—birthday anniversary, Christmas. For that matter no special occasion or excuse is needed to want either of these two excellent hockey games which can be purchased at one of the stores listed below.

A case in point. Two top executives with a leading advertising agency on Madison Avenue in New York City were constantly arguing over the championship qualities of their favorite team and players.

How to settle these running battles. One noon hour the executives returned to their office with a large package. Shortly afterwards noises of varying intensity came from the adjoining board room. In the time it takes Bobby Hull to go the length of the ice and score one of his shattering goals the board room was overflowing with interested fellow employees.

It was the Stanley Cup finals being replayed in a high-class board room in the heart of Manhattan—by adults! What a picture. This same scene is repeated in living rooms, recreation rooms, clubs, schools, wherever two or more hockey fans get together.

Don't be shutout. Score today with "LAST MINUTE OF PLAY" and STANLEY CUP HOCKEY.

OAKLAND-ALAMEDA COUNTY COLISEUM COMPLEX

November 9, 1966—California Seals versus San Diego Gulls. The Oakland-Alameda County Coliseum Arena opened its doors—and on a winning note. The Seals inaugurated the arena with a 6-5 overtime victory.

Since that evening, the nation's most complete indoor-outdoor sports and show complex has entertained over two million people in the Arena alone, with hockey, pro basketball, Roller Derby, boat shows, ice shows and circuses to name just a few of the highlights.

The spectacular glass-walled structure, which accommodates 12,500 for hockey, has upholstered seats, and unobstructed views of the ice surface. A portable floor houses a permanent 200 by 85 foot ice rink.

Next to the Arena is part two of the Complex, the Exhibition Hall. When the two are used together, there are 120,000 square feet available for exhibits.

Across the mall, the stadium completes the triumvirate. Large enough to seat 50,000 baseball fans and 53,000 football partisans, the three-tiered Coliseum realizes the cliche "there isn't a bad seat in the house."

Located at the heart of the Bay Area's extensive freeway system, the Coliseum Complex is the only known facility capable of housing the major league sports plus a myriad of exhibitions and shows. Indoors and out, this unique Complex is truly the nation's fabulous showplace for sports and entertainment.
